PART 3:

Goal (Policy Statement): Visitors and designated caregivers play a key role in the lives of residents, especially related to providing care and support during times when staff may not be available. This policy sets out the protocols needed to ensure a safe visiting program for residents.

Visiting Program & Essential Visitors

Procedures:

General Visitors:

1. The Home welcomes general visitors to the Home, subject to restrictions that may be put in place from time to time (ie. by Public Health).
2. The Home does not have visiting hours, however, visitors are asked to respect resident mealtimes and acknowledge that residents may not wish early morning or late night visits.
3. All visitors are expected to screen themselves before attending the Home to ensure they are not presenting with symptoms compatible with any illness. If they are, they must stay home.
4. All visitors must enter through the front door and complete the visitor log. Records of those attending the Home is maintained at the Home for a minimum of one month.
5. All visitors must follow the protocols of the Home. For example, the COVID pandemic required all those entering the Home to abide by the current masking, testing, vaccination, etc. requirements. Any visitor found to not be following the established guideline may result in a discontinuation or alteration of visiting rights.

Essential Caregiver Program:

1. A person may become an essential caregiver in order to provide direct care to their loved one if they:
 - a. Are at least 16 years of age. If an individual under 16 will be designated as an ECG, the individual's parent or guardian must sign the agreement form.
 - b. Have at least 2 doses of a COVID vaccine or a valid medical note for exemption from a physician or nurse practitioner
 - c. Have reviewed and understand the Home's education package
 - d. Agree to have a rapid antigen test in accordance with the Home's policy (if necessary)
2. Each resident may have 4 ECGs designated to them, unless they had more ECGs designated before December 15th, 2021, in which case that number of ECGs remains intact. Individuals can transfer their ECG designation to another individual, provided the individual remains designated for a minimum of 30 days.
3. Interested individuals are requested to contact the Life Enrichment Coordinator. The LEC will check the ECG listing to ensure the resident does not have the maximum number of ECGs designated to them already.
4. If the individual may sign up, the LEC will email them a copy of the education package, or provide a physical copy, and set up a time to sign the Essential Caregiver Agreement form.
5. The completed form is filed in the resident's chart.

Visiting Program & Essential Visitors

General Visiting Policies:

1. Four individuals may visit at a time; this can be a combination of both ECGs and general visitors.
2. ECGs may visit with their loved one in their loved one's room, in a common area (as space will allow) or outdoors.
3. If the resident is isolating, the Home is in outbreak or during a pandemic or endemic:
 - a. Only essential visitors are permitted to attend the Home. They will be required to follow the Home's protocols including but not limited to: showing their COVID vaccine or other required records at each visit; having a rapid antigen test completed in accordance with the Home's policies; donning and doffing PPE according to training provided and posted signage; and any other protocols the Home and/or Public Health may deem is appropriate.
 - b. General visitors are not permitted to enter the Home during outbreak or when their loved one is in isolation, or at other times when visitor restrictions are mandated (ie. by the Ministry of Long-Term Care during a pandemic).
 - c. Registered Staff are available to provide training/reminders and/or support visitors to don and doff PPE, including where to dispose of items after use.
